KEEPING KIDS SAFE: HOW TO PREPARE KIDS FOR HOME EMERGENCIES

FACT SHEET

HISTORY	After Rebecca Alderman’s past attacks and current threats online, she started a journey to become confident at protecting herself and helping other moms do the same.
MISSION	Helping moms protect their children safely, legally and confidently. Understanding the developmental processes of children and how media news keeps them aware of crime in this world, we aim to equip parents, especially single moms, with the learning tools needed to train their children what to do to thwart, escape or stop a threat in their home. Our methods empower the family to stand together for safety in confidence.
VISION	Moms across the globe will have the second nature know how to train and defend their children in home and self-defense, with or without firearm protection.
PURPOSE	To be the source moms come to for consolidated steps and learning materials, games and activities to train their children against criminal attacks.
FUTURE	Produce 5 “Keeping Kids Safe: How To Prepare Kids for Home Emergencies” series curriculum books with games and family activities that instill situational awareness, develop customized family plans and bond families together as a unit against crime.
